"We named our company Cor Productions – Latin for heart – because we wanted to make videos that got to the heart of the message."

"Making good videos has so much to do with the intangibles of an organization. I can see how a ministry fits into the mission of the Church, and people sense that I can fill their communications need.

Because formation in theology affects how you understand people and groups, my Aquinas degree has had an impact on my career.

No matter where you end up, taking the time to deepen your spiritual life and to search methodically for God is something that enriches you. It's also helped me navigate the world of business. We've had a lot of help, but I also worked to make this happen. Today, a lot of ministry is just that – finding needs and matching your gifts and talents with them."
